A decorative border of musical notation surrounds the text. It consists of a top staff with a treble clef and a series of notes, a bottom staff with a series of notes, and vertical staves on the left and right sides, each with a series of notes.

Pianissimo is a double p.

It means be as soft as you can be.

A decorative border made of musical staves and notes surrounds the text. The top staff starts with a treble clef and contains a sequence of notes. The left and right sides feature vertical staves with notes. The bottom staff also contains a sequence of notes.

Piano is just one p.

*It means
soft and quietly.*

A decorative border of musical notation surrounds the text. It features a treble clef at the top left, followed by a series of eighth and sixteenth notes along the top and bottom edges. On the left and right sides, there are vertical staves with various musical notes and rests.

Mezzo Piano is an m
plus a p.
It means
Medium softly.

A decorative border of musical notation surrounds the text. It features a treble clef at the top left, followed by a sequence of eighth and sixteenth notes on a five-line staff. The notes are arranged to form a rectangular frame around the central text.

Mezzo Forte is medium loud. mf means Full Volume not allowed

Forte is one f and it means LOUD!

When you sing it

Sing it PROUD!

A decorative border of musical notation surrounds the text. It features a treble clef at the top left, followed by a sequence of eighth and sixteenth notes on a five-line staff. The notes are arranged in a rectangular path around the central text.

Fortissimo is a double f.
it means VERY LOUD
But don't go DEAF!

A decorative border of musical notation surrounds the text. It features a treble clef at the top left, various note values (quarter, eighth, and sixteenth notes), and rests arranged in a rectangular frame.

Crescendo gets much LOUDER, first
soft and then it's STRONG!
Decrescendo gets much softer,
start off loud it won't take long.